

2009 Sustaining Sponsorship

For more than a century, the American Institute of Architects, San Francisco Chapter (AIA San Francisco), has been serving the Bay Area through innovative programs, events and services. Headquartered in the historic Hallidie Building—one of the world's first glass-curtain-wall-buildings, designed by Willis Polk, completed in 1917—AIA San Francisco is the Bay Area's premier destination for architecture and design. Our newly renovated AIA SF office interior is awaiting Silver LEED certification.

AIA San Francisco represents individuals from all facets of the architectural industry, including architects, interior designers, engineers, and contractors. Our mission is to improve the quality of life in the Bay Area by promoting architecture and design. We further this goal through community involvement, education, advocacy, public outreach, member service, and professional excellence. Every month, AIA San Francisco offers professional development and networking opportunities as well as public forums, tours, lectures, and gallery exhibitions that provide architects and design enthusiasts with many opportunities to explore the local built environment.

AIA San Francisco's programs and events provide excellent marketing opportunities for those wishing to reach professionals in or related to the architectural industry. Explore the dynamic sustaining sponsorship opportunities AIA San Francisco offers that will help you increase visibility amongst your target audience.

AIA San Francisco Hosts...

- The largest architectural festival in the United States, Architecture and the City festival, drawing tens of thousands of people to tours, exhibitions, films and events.
- Approx. 50 meetings and programs per month, with over 2,000 people visiting the office.
